

Doctor Ori's Work

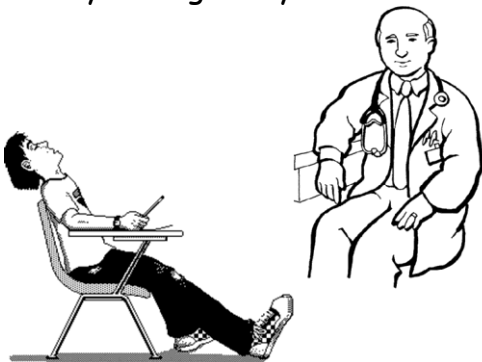

Ori works as a doctor.

Ori says to all his patients, "Drink a glass of orange juice every morning! It's important for your health!"

Then he tells them a story. A very boring story with a lots of words.

It's about a gorilla that falls into a can of paint, turns bright colors, and doesn't know what to do.

The gorilla asks for help...even from a worm.

...but no one around the entire world, not even a worm, wants to listen to a colored gorilla.

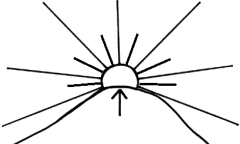

The gorilla is sad. He feels strange, being so colorful and different from normal gorillas.

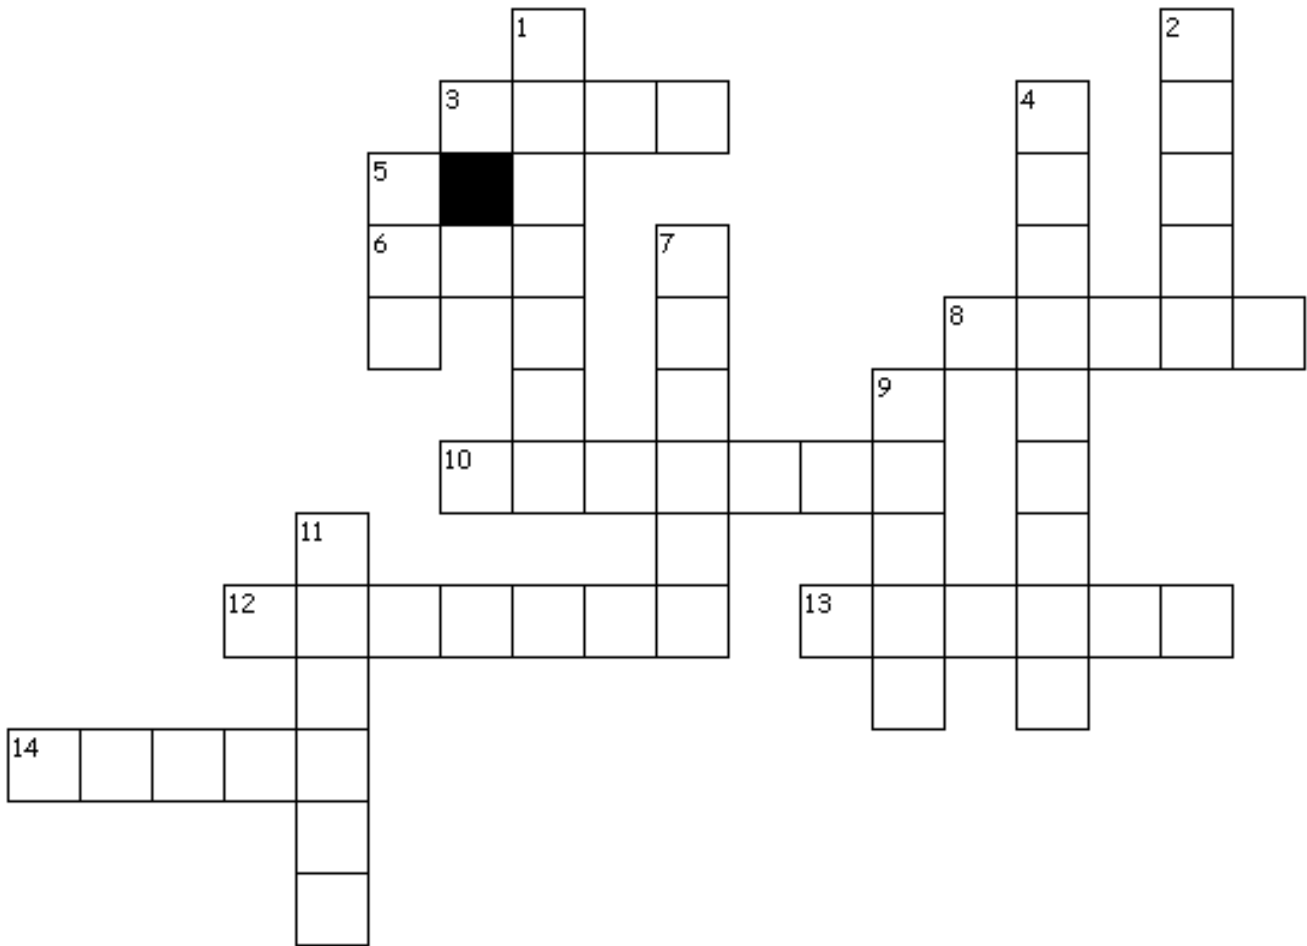

The patients leaving the office think the doctor is strange, too! What a story!
