

I Spoiled the Royal Oil

When I was a boy, I loved to play with toys.
What joy!

My favorite toy was a truck that made cool noises.

But one day it started making pointless noises.

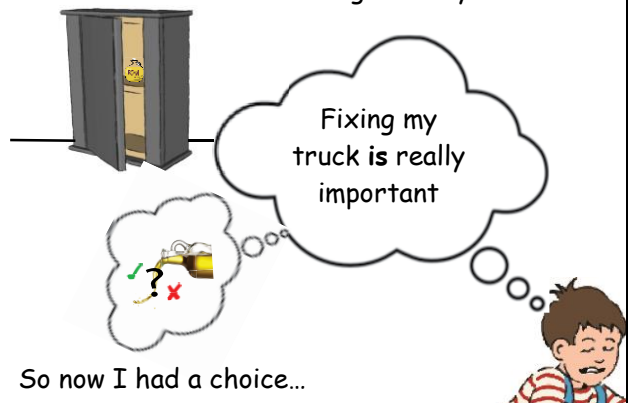

There was a small jar of oil hidden in the cupboard. On it was written "Royal Oil."

Father said he was saving this oil for something really important.

I thought to myself:

So now I had a choice...

I decided to take the oil from the cupboard and pour it on my toy truck.

It worked!

It stopped making pointless noises.

Just then father came home and saw the empty jar of oil.

He was REALLY annoyed.

OY! You spoiled the royal oil!

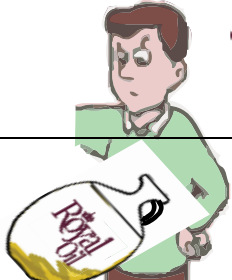

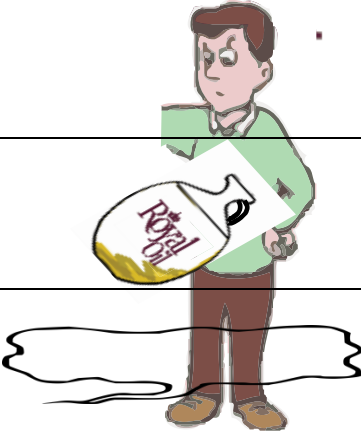

His voice sounded angry.

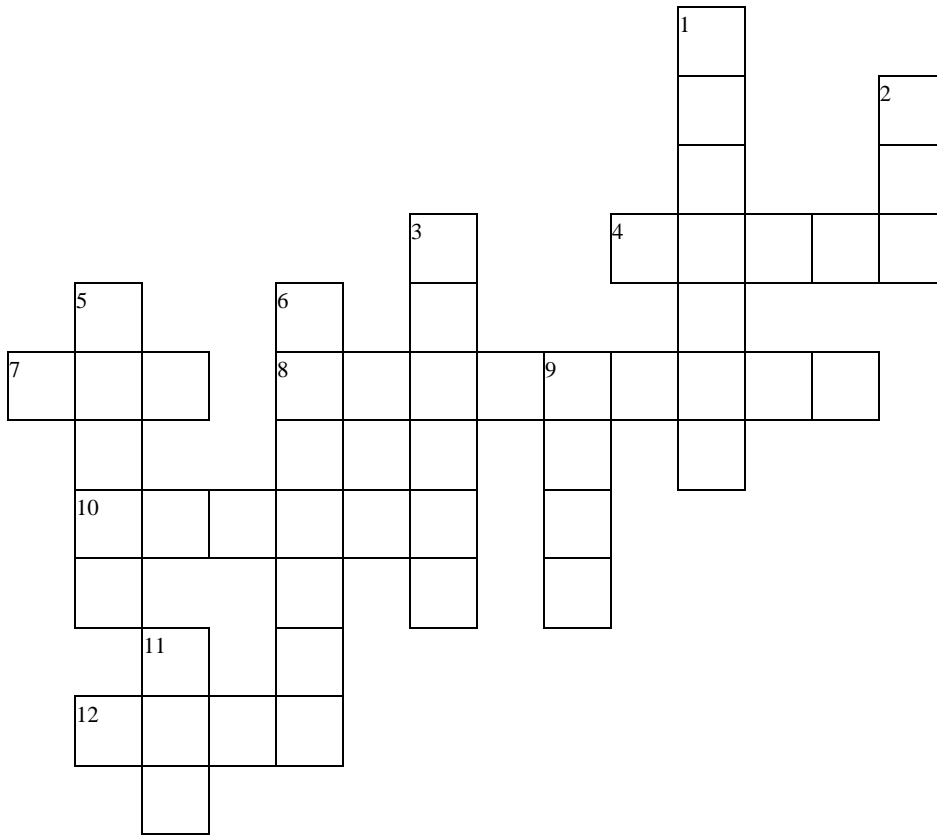

And that is why the royal throne is void today.
