

Six Nice Mice

The six nice mice had a loving mother. She took good care of them and loved them a lot.

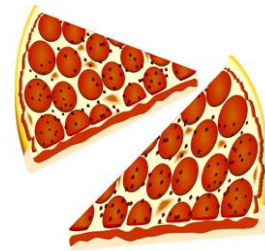

The mice were hungry and wanted their dinner. Two of them asked for pizza and the rest asked for spiced rice.

Their mother started to cook at once. She had to fry, cut and slice, and she did not forget to spice.

The mother served her tiny mice their food. Twice she served slices of pizza, and she served four dishes of rice.

Their mother promised the nice mice Pop-Ice if they finished all their food.

The mice ate everything and got their Pop-Ice. For them it was a nice price!!

Game: Taboo

In the center of the table, place cards upside down, so that the words are face-down. On each card, there is a word from the new vocabulary and another word that the player is not allowed to say- it is taboo. The teacher or the student picks up a card (each one in turn) and tries to describe his word without saying the forbidden word. If the student is capable, he will try to use only English, and if he is young and has not enough vocabulary, he can use Hebrew. However, the main word must be said in English.
